DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 10/31/2007 has been entered. Claims 116,118-119, 122-123, 127-128, 130-131, 134, 136-137, 139-140, 143, 145-146, 148-149, 152, 154-155, 157-158, 161 and 163 have been amended. Accordingly, claims 116-163 are pending in this office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 128-136, 155-163 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. All of the listed claims are either system claims with "means for" limitations or system claims with "module" limitations. Neither set of "system" claims contain any hardware limitations and therefore amount to software per se. Appropriate correction is required.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 116-163 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 116-163 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US 5,864,842 (hereinafter Pederson).

As for claim 116 Pederson discloses: generating a set of SQL statements to query a first table and a second table (See column 4 lines 25-30), wherein the generating uses a relationship between the first table and the second table to construct the set of SQL statements, and the set of SQL statements comprises SQL statements other than a statement that joins the first and second tables querying the first table using the set of SQL statements to produce a result set (See column 4 lines 35-47); querying the second table using the set of SQL statements to produce a second result set; and joining the result set and the second result set to produce a third result set (See column 4 lines 50-57).

As for claim 117 the rejection of claim 116 is incorporated and further Pederson discloses: a parent/child relationship between the first and second tables, wherein one of the first and second tables is a parent table, and if the first table is the parent table, the second table is a child table, and if the second table is the parent table, the first table is the child table (See figure 4).

As for claim 118 the rejection of claim 117 is incorporated and further Pederson discloses: querying the parent table using the set of SQL statements to produce the result set; and using the result set in constructing a second set of SQL statements to query the child table, wherein the second set of SQL statements comprises SQL statements other than a second statement that joins the second table to another table (See column 7 lines 15-25).

As for claim 119 the rejection of claim 118 is incorporated and further Pederson discloses: querying the child table using the second set of SQL statements to produce the second result set (See column 6 lines 40-50).

As for claim 120 the rejection of claim 119 is incorporated and further Pederson discloses returning the third result set as a result of the query of the first and second tables (See column 6 lines 40-50).:

As for claim 121 the rejection of claim 118 is incorporated and further Pederson discloses: the second set of SQL statements comprises: a query statement for selecting a record having a value of a foreign key field of the second table equal to a value of a target key field in the result set (See column 6 lines 30-45 ).

As for claim 122 the rejection of claim 116 is incorporated and further Pederson discloses: using the result set in constructing a second set of SQL statements to query the second table, wherein the second set of SQL statements comprises SQL statements other than a second statement that joins the second table to another table (See column 6 lines 35-50)

As for claim 123 the rejection of claim 122 is incorporated and further Pederson discloses: querying the second table using the second set of SQL statements to produce the second result set (See column 6 lines 40-50),

As for claim 124 the rejection of claim 123 is incorporated and further Pederson discloses: returning the third result set as a result of the query of the first and second tables 9See column 6 lines 35-55).

As for claim 125 the rejection of claim 122 is incorporated and further Pederson discloses: a query statement for selecting a record having a value of a foreign key field of the second table equal to a value of a target key field in the result set (See column 7 lines 5-15).

As for claim 126 the rejection of claim 116 is incorporated and further Pederson discloses: obtaining a search specification for the query of the first and second tables, wherein the set of SQL statements comprises a query statement to select a record from at least one of the first and second tables if the record satisfies the search specification (See column 6 lines 40-45).

As for claim 127 the rejection of claim 126 is incorporated and further Pederson discloses: executing the set of SQL statements to produce the third result set; and returning the third result set in response to the search specification (See column 6 lines 35-55).

Claims 128 -163 are all either system or computer program product claims all comprising substantially the same limitations as claims 116-127 and are thus rejected for the same reasons as set forth in the rejection of claims 116-127.
